國立彰化高中 114 學年度英文作文比賽高一組作文試卷與題目

題目：Many people use fake names on the internet. While this lets them talk freely, some people use this chance to say mean things or spread rumors because no one knows who they are. If you are posting something online, do you think using a real name is better than being anonymous (匿名)? Why or why not? Please share your ideas and provide examples to prove your points. (不用抄題，請寫 150 字左右)

As technology has progressed gradually, everybody can post anything online. Whether you want to ask some advices from others or just watch others' talks. Online world is the best place you should go. It seems that there are only advantages about the internet. However, it's actually harmful to people if they use it in a wrong way. For instance, some mean people will comment posters' appearance and figure online. The reason that they can do that is because a function on the internet, anonymous account. When you are going to throw something online, you can choose whether others can see who you are or not. Some people choose to open this convenient function, while others don't. From my perspective, I prefer being anonymous than using a real name.

The main reason that I want to be anonymous on the internet is because I don't want to be commented and saw what I post by the people around me such as my families, my friends, and even my teachers. I used to open it until I was made fun of by my classmates in junior high school. At that time, I was a novice to the internet. I didn't know that I could be anonymous in that world, so I just posted some of my pictures and typed something dumb under the post. I expected that there would be no people around me watching my post. Nevertheless, I was totally wrong. As I went to school next day. My adjacent classmates started to laugh my post and even saved my pictures. After I got back to home, I deleted all of my posts and I felt quite embarrassed. I have been opening the function that can make me anonymous since then because I don't want to get more hurt anymore.

Though it's quite convenient to post anything on the internet, there are still a lot of people that release their pressure by saying something bad to others. I am convinced that
